timism and confidence in their future. That's the Canada I want to build."

58 days after being elected and nearly ten years after his landmark "tragedy of the horizon" speech about acting with foresight to prevent climate harms, Carney's government rammed through Bill C-5 - legislation that gives cabinet sweeping powers to bypass environmental reviews and protections. As the second-worst wildfire season in Canadian history forc-young peoples' rights to a climate-safe future, leaving them with no choice but to litigate?

On World Youth Day, I celebrated the bravery of the seven young Ontarians in Mathur v. Ontario for taking their government to court over climate harms. For them, and for me, actions speak louder than words.
